

The software solution for growing companies

“ I have been using Adept for nearly 15 years now across four different businesses. Throughout that time, a couple of things stand out: the robustness and reliability of the software and the willingness of the staff to understand and address the issues faced. ”

Craig Stuart
Chief Executive Officer
Daily Fresh

“ We have been impressed with Adept's ability to deliver the technology required for us to manage our business, maintain our inventory management and, more importantly, optimise customer satisfaction. ”

“ Adept’s software forms the core component of our new e-ordering system which allows our dealer network to self-serve over the internet to perform activities like checking for product availability and placing orders any time of the day. We have been extremely delighted with our dealers’ response and in Adept’s performance to deliver this solution. ”

David Seah - IT Manager
Michelin Australia Pty Ltd

“ We deployed Adept’s application in 2008 to allow our wholesale customers to order fuel online. Adept’s technology gives us a competitive edge and helps us to deliver a cost-effective solution to our customers. ”

Claude Mestrov - Manager
United Petroleum

Expand your business empire and consolidate data quickly

As your business grows, you can be confident in Adept’s ability to grow with you. With features such as multi-company and multi-warehouse processing and a completely customisable chart of accounts, adding additional companies or divisions is a quick and easy operation. Report flexibly at cost centre, company or group level. Consolidate data quickly and easily.

Fully integrated CRM - manage and protect your company assets

Using Adept’s CRM, you can manage, protect and develop your most important asset – your customer base. Build your business relationships and improve levels of customer satisfaction through the CRM’s ability to:

- Segment your customers and prospects with built-in profiling
- Undertake personalised targeted marketing via email, SMS or direct mail
- View all account details on one screen.
- Check orders, invoices, account details, product sales and other relevant information, quickly and effectively
- Improve cash flow by identifying overdue debtors
- View important documents such as marketing agreements or service level agreements directly from the CRM, wherever you are.

Flexible reporting facilities, business intelligence and data mining

The Adept Reporting Tool (ART) provides a simple yet powerful solution for business intelligence and data mining. Turn data into information using reports, cross-tabulations, charts and pivot tables. Distribute information to Excel and Word or via email to mobile devices.

Use the in-built scheduler to generate and distribute management reports automatically.

Optimise Customer Service via self-serve applications

Adept’s web-based delivery of information is geared towards building self-serve applications giving your customers 24/7 access to personalised real-time information so they can:

- Place orders
- Review the status of orders
- Check stock availability and pricing
- Review account status
- Download invoices and statements

Working hand in hand with Adept’s CRM, the web module will decrease your sales cycles, reduce the possibility of human error and improve customer service.
